Registraciones

Una de las grandes necesidades en cada parroquia activa es tener un registro actualizado de cada familia y cada persona en la parroquia. No hay un día en el que nuestra oficina parroquial no haga referencia de nuestra lista de feligreses registrados. Han pasado muchos años desde que nuestro sistema de datos fue actualizado. Debemos actualizar nuestro directorio de datos parroquiales cuando los feligreses mueren, se mudan o dejan la parroquia. Debemos actualizar nuestro directorio cuando los feligreses se casan, cuando nacen sus hijos o cuando llegan nuevos miembros a la parroquia. ¡Este es un trabajo que no tiene fin porque somos un grupo de personas que está cambiando constantemente!

Debido a nuestra gran necesidad de actualizar nuestros registros parroquiales, les vamos a enviar una carta con un formulario de registro con el domicilio que tenemos en los archivos. Les pedimos que llenen este formulario y lo devuelvan a la iglesia o lo envíen por correo. Tendremos una cajita en el vestíbulo de la iglesia para que depositen su formulario una vez que lo hayan llenado. Si no recibimos su respuesta, supondremos que usted no es más un miembro activo aquí en la Parroquia del Sagrado Corazón. Para más información favor llamen a la oficina al 936-564-7807.

Respect Life Month: Be Not Afraid

The Bishops of the United States have designated

October as Respect Life Month and Sunday, Oct. 1 as Respect Life Sunday.

The theme for this year's observance is "Be Not Afraid." The program promotes respect for human life in light of our intrinsic dignity as having been created in God's image and likeness and called to an eternal destiny with him. Bishop Strickland asks that the following petitions be included in the Prayers of the Faithful at all Masses on Sept. 30-Oct. 1:

For our nation: May God unite us in peace and respect for each other and all human life; We pray to the Lord... Por nuestra nación: para que Dios nos una en paz y respeto de unos a otros y a toda vida humana; roguemos al Señor...

For all people: May God grant us courage to embrace his precious gift of life, even in the most difficult of circumstances; We pray to the Lord...

Por todas las personas: para que Dios nos conceda valor para abrazar su precioso regalo de la vida, incluso en las circunstancias más difíciles; roguemos al Señor...

For all Catholics: May the real presence of Jesus in the Eucharist strengthen us in protecting his gift of life; We pray to the Lord...

Por todos los católicos: para que la verdadera presencia de Jesús in la Eucaristía nos fortalezca al proteger su don de la vida; roguemos al Señor...

Looking Forward: November

The Solemnity of All Saints is on Nov. 1. This is a Holy Day of Obligation and Mass schedules for the Holy Day should be announced beginning the weekend of Oct. 21-22.

The Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed (All Souls' Day) is celebrated Nov. 2. Special Masses or the Order of Visiting a Cemetery (Book of Blessings) are appropriate. By apostolic indult, priests are granted the privilege of celebrating three Masses on this day: one Mass for a particular intention, another for all the faithful departed, and a third for the intention of the Roman Pontiff. During November, we remember the faithful departed in a special way. Parishes might consider a Book of the Dead where the faithful could write the names of their beloved dead. This would appropriately be placed outside the sanctuary.

A Closer Look at the Rubrics: Bowing

While discussing something as simple as when and how to bow during the Holy Mass may seem mundane or even trite, the Church understands that it is necessary to proclaim the real presence of the Lord "with a sense and demonstration of the greatest reverence and adoration..." (General Instruction of the Roman Missal, 3) The Second Vatican Council reminds us that the liturgical rites are to be ordered in such a way that they "express more clearly the holy things they signify." Considering these principles, the Church prescribes certain gestures for the sacred ministers and people as part of "her faith and her unaltered love for the supreme mystery of the Eucharist, and also [to] attest to her continuous and consistent tradition." (GIRM 1)

The gestures prescribed by the liturgical norms are designed to make the entire celebration "resplendent with beauty and noble simplicity" so that the true and full meaning of the parts of the Mass are clear, participation is fostered, and the common spiritual good of the people is served. The gestures are also expressions of unity and a proper intention and spiritual attitude. (GIRM 42) Bishop Peter Elliott summarizes this very well when he says, "Reverence in every gesture expresses the faith that is within us." These gestures communicate a sense of the sacred and remind us we are in the presence of God.

It is also important to remember the Sacred Liturgy is a foretaste of heaven. And not only is it a taste, but through the sacraments we share in eternal realities. At this coming together of heaven and earth at Holy Mass, the rubrics and gestures of the Mass are a reflection and representation of the splendor of heaven and the divine order. This means paying attention to even the finest details. With this in mind, we turn to the topic at hand.

There two types of bows in the Ordinary Form of the Roman Rite: the bow of the body and the bow of the head. When the bows are done at the specified times, they should be gracious and unhurried, though not ponderous or pompous. Those standing or processing together, should endeavor to make the gestures with uniformity. The bow of the body (also called a “profound bow”) is an incline forward from the waist as the hands are kept joined. This bow is made:

To the altar by the priest(s), deacon, and ministers upon arriving at the sanctuary at the beginning of Mass (if the tabernacle with the Blessed Sacrament is present, all genuflect rather than bow). Those carrying the cross or candles make only a bow of the head, except the minister carrying the Book of Gospels who omits the reverence altogether.

To the person or object being incensed by the one incensing before and after it is incensed (except the altar and offerings). (GIRM 277)

To the priest by the deacon while asking for (Iube, Domne...) and receiving the Dominus sit in corde blessing before the Gospel. (GIRM 175)

To the altar by the priest or deacon before taking the Book of Gospels (if the priest is proclaiming the Gospel, here he says the Munda cor meum prayer). (GIRM 132, 175, 262)

By all during the Creed from the words et incarnatus est until after they have finished saying the words et homo factus est. (GIRM 138)

To the altar by the priest as he says the words In spiritu humilitatis during the Offertory. (GIRM 143)

To the altar by the priest as he says the words of consecration (here the rubrics refer to bowing “slightly”). (RM 90, etc.)

To the altar by the priest during the Supplices of the Roman Canon. (RM 94)

By all when receiving the Solemn Blessing or the Prayer over the People. (GIRM 185)

To the altar by the priest(s), deacon, and ministers when departing at the conclusion of Mass (if the tabernacle with the Blessed Sacrament is present, all genuflect rather than bow). (GIRM 169, 186, 251, 272) 11. To the altar by the ministers when the pass before it during the liturgy. (CB 72) Additionally, concelebrating priests make the profound bow:

During Eucharistic Prayer I (the Roman Canon), after the words of consecration as the celebrant genuflects and during the Supplices. (GIRM 222)

During the other Eucharistic Prayers, after the words of consecration as the celebrant genuflects. (GIRM 227, 230, 233)

A bow of the head (in practice, the shoulders incline slightly) is made:

To the altar by ministers carrying objects in procession. (GIRM 274)

By all when: (GIRM 275)

The three Divine Persons are named (e.g. Gloria Patri...)

At the name of “Jesus” and “Mary.”

At the name of the Saint of the day (e.g. at “Francis” on the Memorial of St. Francis of Assisi).

To the Blessed Sacrament by those receiving Holy Communion. (GIRM 160)

Additionally, though not prescribed by the rubrics, ministers might make a slight bow to express respect and gratitude before and after receiving an object or being assisted in some way. It is also appropriate for the ministers to make a slight bow to the bishop on approaching or leaving him, or when passing in front of him.
